THE VILLA AND ITS HISTORY

Surrounded by magnificent gardens overlooking the Mediterranean, it is home to the Baroness's rich art collections. It took seven years for one of the most original women of the Riviera, Baroness Béatrice Ephrussi de Rothschild, to build one of the most beautiful sites on the Côte d'Azur.

Built on demand and in the image of the Baroness. The Villa Ephrussi de Rothschild lets you experience the life of high society at the beginning of the 20th century. Named the jewel of the French Riviera, it has become an essential leisure activity in the region. Every year, 150,000 visitors discover its pink Italian Renaissance-inspired architecture.

The exploration begins with the reception areas, such as the patio, the large and small lounge. Then we continue with the Baroness's apartments, her bedroom, the boudoir, her wardrobe and her bathroom. We end on the floor dedicated to the salons: the one with the tapestries, monkeys, porcelain and the Far Eastern art salon.

Over the years, the woman who has become one of the greatest collectors of her century, has made her home a collector's house where paintings by masters (Fragonard, Boucher, Carpaccio, Tiepolo...), rare furniture and porcelain from the Royal Manufacturers of Sèvres and Vincennes rub shoulders.

THE 9 DREAM GARDENS

These green spaces surrounding the Villa Ephrussi de Rothschild are adorned with colonnades, waterfalls, ponds, flowerbeds and trees of rare species.

9 Edens make up the exterior :

- French style
- To the Spanish
- Florentine
- Lapidary
- Japanese
- Exotic
- La Roseraie
- Provençal

Beatrice wanted to recreate the feeling of sailing on her boat while being in her garden. She reconstructed her memories of trips to each of her gardens. A real botanical journey was built.
